ACTION PLAN BASED ON STUDENT FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

1. The decision to construct new, adequate washrooms is a commendable step by the college management in response to student dissatisfaction with the current facilities. It highlights the institution's commitment to addressing student concerns and creating a more comfortable and hygienic environment. In any educational setting, access to clean and well-maintained washrooms is a fundamental aspect of student welfare. The lack of such facilities can negatively affect the overall campus experience and even the academic focus of students. By prioritizing the construction of better washrooms, the college is not only improving sanitation but also demonstrating that it values student feedback and is willing to take meaningful actions to enhance campus life. This project can boost morale and student satisfaction, creating a positive ripple effect where students feel heard and respected.

2. In response to dissatisfaction expressed by considerate number of students regarding lack of trips organized by college, the management took prompt action to address this concern. College management planned the trip to Amritsar, blending both recreational and religious elements. This kind of trip provides a break from academics while promoting cultural and spiritual awareness. By organizing it as both a fun outing and a religious journey, it likely allowed students to bond, relax, and also experience the rich heritage of Amritsar, particularly visiting landmarks like the Golden Temple. More such experiences could boost student engagement, create lasting memories, and foster stronger connections within the college community. It may also reinforce student requests for future trips as a way to balance learning with well-rounded personal development.
